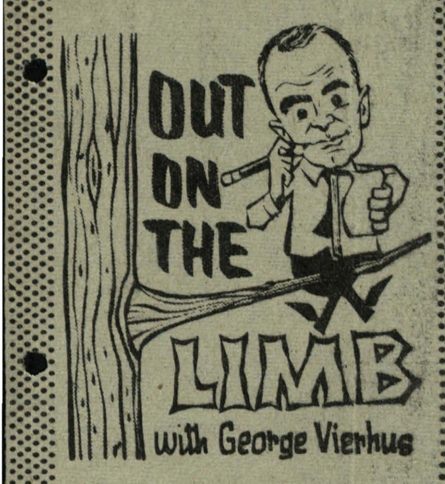
Vol. 72 No. 29 378-9136 Wed., Aug. 12, 1964



HAVE YOU NOTICED how sharp-looking our Model A Ford pickup is now with its new paint job and with the The Campbell Press signs on the doors?

The signs match the logotype that appears on the front page of the paper.

For the record, the signs comply with that ridiculous (in our opinion) clause in the city ordinance. This law specifies that a sign on a vehicle can only be 12 x 24-inches in dimension, if the vehicle is to be parked for more than two hours in the front driveway of any home in town.

This two-hour limitation is for a vehicle that has any structure on it or a sign painted on the body used to advertise or promote a product or business.

The question may be an academic one as to whether we expect the sign, "The Campbell Press," to "promote or advertise" this newspaper.

We just don't wish to get involved that way.

so we were careful to keep within the dimensions as listed in the ordinance which was adopted last September.

Frankly, we have an idea that this clause in the aforesaid ordinance which describes the size of a sign on a vehicle that is parked in one's private driveway is off-base constitutionally speaking. That is, if anyone cares to test it.

We don't.

That is why we made our sign the proper size, as per ordinance.

There were two other sound reasons: (1) we didn't want a larger sign and (2) the door couldn't take a larger sign, even if we had wanted one. Regardless, we still think specifying the size of a sign that can be on a vehicle parked in one's private driveway is an extreme measure and is infringing on the rights of the individual.

We fail to see where a neatly - designed sign on a vehicle is going to do any harm, esthetically speaking, to any neighborhood.

The ordinance does not prohibit boats, trailers or campers being parked in the front yard.

But if you have a sign on your car, be sure to measure it. If it exceeds 12 x 24 inches, your neighbors might object.

-o-

BUT WE ENJOY our Model A, with or without signs.

Maybe it is just plain and simple nostalgia cropping out.

After all, Henry Ford built our particular job some 33 years ago. That sort of dates us. We can remember when the Model A was a classy jalopie that we drooled over.

It runs like a charm, helped by a completely rebuilt engine, of course.

There are a number of little maneuvers one

City holds line on tax rate as valuation takes jump

It will cost the City of Campbell $432,199 more to keep its doors open this year than last.

But a jump of more than $5 million in assessed valuation will allow the city to operate at the same tax rate as last year, $1.27 and even increase the reserve.

This was determined Monday night when the City Council by ordinance fixed the amount that the city will need during the fiscal year ($1,821,530) and specifed the amount that must be raised by taxation, ($460,743).

The same tax rate as last year will raise $64,841 more because of the increase in valuation.

The city tax rate is divided into two categories, bond retirement at 27-cents and the general fund at $1.

City Manager Bob Stephens said that the 27-cent bond tax would bring in more than $12,000 above the amount that must be paid on bonds during the year. This would allow the council to cut the tax rate about three cents. But he suggested that the council build the bond retirement reserve this year and possibly allow for a bigger cut next year or plan to retire the bonds earlier than scheduled. The council agreed.

Stephens also explained that the assessed valuation figure had exceeded his estimate made in May and thus would allow a $15,197 increase in reserves above his previous estimate.

C. of C. wants money to help 'Ponies' travel

Spearheaded by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, a drive was started this week in town to raise money to help pay the traveling expenses of the undefeated Campbell-Moreland Pony League all-stars, on their way to a possible world championship.

By press time more than $100 had been collected.

The Campbell-Moreland team this week is in Springville, Utah, participating in the regional tournament. If the local team wins this tourney, the next stop is the world series which will be held in San Diego.

The Campbell-Moreland team swept by the district, area and sectional playoffs without losing a game.

Paul Landwehr, secretary manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, is being assisted by LeRoy Black, city street superintendent, and ardent sports booster. The C. of C. started the drive with $25 and local business and professional people were quick to follow suit.

Those wishing to contribute to the next Pony League world champions (maybe) may do so by either personally contacting Landwehr or Black, or by mailing checks or cash to the Campbell Moreland Pony League fund, c/o Campbell Chamber of Commerce, 33 N. First St.

City eyes blocked streets

Whether it will be feasible to attempt to get the San Tomas Expressway plans amended to allow for the opening of Latimer and Rincon will be discussed at a study session Thursday, August 20, at the city hall, according to council action Monday.

The expressway plans, as approved by the City Council last year, call for both Latimer and Rincon to be cut off by the expressway when it is constructed through town the next year.

During recent weeks, a number of business people and residents have indicated that they felt it would be detrimental to the community if both Latimer and Rincon were closed off. The Campbell Press also editorially has urged

IT'S NOW OFFICIAL --On Monday of this week, the West Valley Junior College moved into the former Campbell Grammar School at Campbell and Winchester which will probably be the college's home for the next five years. Staff members above are pictured carrying in office furniture. Approximately $190,000 has been spent converting the elementary school, built in 1922, into suitable quarters for the junior college. Last Thursday, the County Committee on School District Organization rejected a petition requesting a restudy of West Valley Junior College district's necessity for existence. The rejection followed a public hearing two weeks previously that had been held on the petition.

At the junior college board meeting last Thursday, the board lopped off $600,000 from the proposed budget to hold the district tax rate to 54-cents. Most of the cut came from the reserve set aside for the purchase of land.

Junior college-city clash over improvements for new parking areas

West Valley Junior College officials came to bat three times over parking problems at the Planning Commission meeting last week. And they struck out twice.

But one of the strikeouts (over the waiver of storm drain fees) could be nullified at the regular City Council meeting on August 24. The college has appealed the planners' decision.

The college, represented by Dr. Wallace Hall, president, and R.E. Arnold, administrative assistant, made three requests of the Planning Commission: (1) a use permit to use residential buildings on the 2 1/2 acre parking lot at Latimer and Winchester leased from Charles Rose: (2) a use permit for a 5 1/2 acre parcel between Rincon and Campbell Ave. for a parking lot and (3) waiver of the usual storm drain fees on parking lots totaling $3160.

NO HOUSES

The commission flatly denied the use of the buildings on the Rose property based on reports of the building and fire departments which had rated them substandard.

The motion to deny the use of permit was made by Commissioner Jim Tomlinson and was carried unanimously. Tomlinson pointed out that it would be difficult to justify the use of the structures in face of the commission's efforts to upgrade other areas in town.

OK'S PARKING

The commission then approved the request of the college for a use permit to operate the parking area between Rincon and Campbell Ave. on residential property located at 111-112 Salice Way: 115-135-151 Rose Court and 96 Campbell Ave.

Arnold told the commission that the 5 1/2 acre area would provide parking spaces for 710 cars and with the Rose property on Latimer would allow for 1000 cars to be parked off the streets. He estimated that the college would expend $31,500 to improve the areas.

The area would have a 60-foot entry onto Campbell Ave. It would also have egress and ingress from Rincon. Arnold and Hall explained also that they had attempted to acquire property north of Latimer for a parking area which would have been more accessible to the college but were unable to obtain it.

The college officials also agreed to meet the requirements as to lighting and fencing that would be demanded by the city. After considerable discussion over the anticipated parking jams that would result and other problems brought by the coming of the college.

Editorial

Unblock the streets

The Campbell Press editorially has been urging that a re-examination of the San Tomas Expressway route through town is paramount at this time by officials concerned before dirt starts flying and construction is under way.

We claim that another hard look is necessary at the plans for the streets that are going to be blocked off.

The expressway plans, as approved, call for both Latimer and Rincon to be cut off and Budd Avenue to be a signalized crossing.

We have maintained that the blocking of these streets will have a disturbing effect on the community in many respects.

We feel that, if it is at all possible, the city officials should seek to have the original plans amended so that both Latimer and Rincon will become through streets.

We recognize that we are late in our plea. But we also believe that it is not too late, if the city officials, various civic bodies and residents themselves unite in their demands that a re-examination of the situtation is imperative.

We are pleased to note that the Campbell Chamber of Commerce has recognized the problem and plans to submit a resolution to the City Council requesting that steps be taken to open Rincon and Latimer.
state that they heartily oppose the closing of Latimer and Rincon. They cite that the closing of these two streets will have an adverse effect on the efficiency of the fire and police departments in servicing the areas that will be cut off by the expressway.

The resolution also points out that the blocking of the two streets will create a dangerous traffic hazard for children who must walk to schools in the areas affected.

It is also pointed out that the closing off of Rincon and Latimer will have a detrimental effect on the "downtown Campbell core". The city and merchants have literally spent thousands of dollars on studies for the city which include a traffic improvement plan and an economic analysis as well as a general plan for the city.

None of these studies anticipated the closing off of the two streets. Thus their value to the city is greatly lessened because of these projected road blocks very definitely will affect the entire area in a negative way.

Some of the city councilmen are sympathetic to the situation and are eager to see what can be done to remedy it. True, the so-called expressway agreement which specified that Rincon and Latimer would be closed was approved by the City Council.

But that was several years ago. And it was a different council than the one that governs the city today.

When the plan was approved, we do not think that enough thought was given to how the traffic problems would be compounded by the growth of the area.

And the growth that has taken place has far exceeded that anticipated.

We feel that unless the residents, business people, city officials who will be affected stand up and make themselves heard at this late date, chances of amending the plans will be slim.

On the other hand, we sincerely believe, if enough noise is made, concessions still can be made.

We believe that all of us are going to suffer in one way or another by the closing of these two streets.

We see no reason why there cannot be changes made in the plans, if it can be shown that there is a need for the changes.

And, believe us, there will be a need.

Council okays street sweeper, traffic signals on Central

A new sweeper to cost $12,800 and traffic signals on Central Ave. costing $2000 were authorized by the City Council Monday night.

Both items had been approved in the budget previously adopted by the city.

The council also approved the specifications that will be put out for bids for the street sweeper. The present street speeper owned by the city will be retained and will be used as a "standby" and also on a part-time basis.

Traffic signals will be installed at Central and Campbell avenues. It was also explained that the signals will have a control at the fire station on Central which will allow them to flash red when the fire wagons roll.

The council also authorized the purchase of three new typewriters for the city hall at a cost of approximately $200 each; a mimeograph machine, $450; a sign-applicator, $450 and a survey truck all for the public works department at an approximate cost of $700.

Myron Hawk, public works director, said that the city would be able to save considerable money by purchasing a used survey truck from the state for $400 and rebuilding the engine for another $300.

has to go through in driving it that those who drive more modern cars now by-pass.

We mean the spark should be retarded while starting it and stuff like that.

Then the gas tank line should be turned off in the cab when the car is stopped. And turned on before you start it.

This gas-tank spigot has foiled a number of people who are driving the Model A for the first time. The car will run for a brief time, about 100 yards, and then it comes to a dead halt unless the gas is turned on.

Our little wife, Dorothy, learned about this recently.

She had borrowed the Model A to go to the store, but the car conked out less than a block away from our house. (She didn't know about the gas-line bit.)

We came to her rescue on a vehicle that even pre-dates the Ford....a bicycle.

Coincidentally, our nephew, Rick, had seen Dorothy stranded as he was riding by on his bike and reported to us.

So we borrowed his bike and gallantly sped to our wife's rescue.

But when we did our bike-riding in the dear, dim past, the brake was on the pedals.

But times have changed. And so have bikes. As we flew by our wife, pressing on the pedals, we managed to tell her about the gas-line on the Model A.

She claims she was telling us at the same time that the bike-brake was on the handle-bar.

But she was laughing so hard, her message didn't get through.

Fortunately we stopped our two-wheel steed by throwing ourself and the bike on a soft spot on the ground with no ill effect to the bike or its rider.

We then traded messages and proceeded on our respective ways in our respective modes of transportation.

This, then, is by way of explanation to those market checkers who, on that particular day, were puzzled by the gal who went through the lines laughing all the way.

There is a moral, we think, to this some place. If we find it, we will let you know.

that another hard look should be taken at the approved plans and the two streets be unblocked if possible even at this late date in the planning stages.

At the urging of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce which had submitted a resolution asking that the streets be opened, the City Council Monday called the study session, as the first move in the long haul if the plans are going to be changed.

At the study session, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and a number of interested business people will be invited to participate.

After the study session, if the council decides to move ahead with the efforts to unblock the streets, an appeal will be made to the supervisors and members of the County Trafficway Committee.

At the council meeting Monday, Mayor Charles Rose was named as representative on the committee with Councilman Ralph Doetsch as alternate. They replace Myron Hawk, public works director, and William Wren as this city's representatives on the countywide body.

In another action affecting the expressway, the City Council on Monday approved an agreement with the county in which the city could construct the Hamilton-expressway interchange at the same time Hamilton Ave. will be extended under the Local Improvement District No. 6.

The city will later be reimbursed for the interchange work from expressway funds.

College-city clash over parking

the commission approved the use permit.

Before the vote on approval was made, Commissioner Homer Hyde asked whether in face of the problems that were developing over the college, had the college officials anticipated them before they decided to locate in Campbell. But Chairman Thayer Lyons ruled that the question was not pertinent to the issue at hand.

The commission vote on two JC requests (one favorable and one unfavorable) were unanimous. But on the college's request for waiver of storm drain fees, the five-member commission (two commissioners were absent) was sharply divided.

By a 3-2 vote the commission denied the request.

A motion made by Commissioner Jack Healey granting the waiver was lost for lack of a second. But the motion denying it made by Hyde was carried. Tomlinson and Commissioner E.M. Stojanovich joined Hyde in voting for it with Lyons and Healey opposed.

Before the vote a lively discussion on who was responsible for paying the storm drain fees took place. It was pointed out that the college was only using the property temporarily. It would revert to the original owners at a later date.

In a previous meeting, on a motion by Tomlinson, the commission had agreed to accept a bond in lieu of cash for the storm drain requirement. But after Myron Hawk, public works director, said in his opinion, a bond would not be satisfactory, the commission proceeded to deny the request by a split vote without any mention of a bond.

College officials also explained during the discussion that the fledgling college was hard-pressed financially, and the extra $3000 would work a hardship on their curtailed budget. They also mentioned that both the college and the city were operating on the same taxpayers' money.

HYDE'S DEFENSE

Hyde defended his motion by explaining that he felt waiving fees was not in the province of the commission. The commission was only an advisory body.

College officials later indicated that they would appeal the commission's verdict on the fee-waiver but would not appeal the decision on the use of the houses.

On August 24, the City Council will take up the matter. It will take the approval of four council members to overrule the planners which means all those who will be voting that night.

Mayor Charles Rose, as owner of some of the property involved, will disqualify himself from voting.

Hawk told the council that if this was done, Hamilton would not have to be closed when the expressway construction starts.

BIBLE SCHOOL REGISTRATION

Daily Vacation Bible School registrations are now being received by the Valley Neighborhood Church, Camden Ave, at Bascom in preparation for the opening of the school on Monday, Aug. 24th. The Bible School, open to all boys and girls, and teenagers, will be held August 24 to 28 in the educational facilities of the church. There is no charge for registration.

Watchtower convention attracts 9,847

Delegates from the Campbell congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have returned from attending the "Fruitage of the Spirit" District Assembly at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds.

According to Sam Pavone, presiding minister of the local congregation, 9,847 overflowed the convention facilities for the assembly's high point, the public talk by H.D. Wetzler, Jr., Watchtower Society circuit minister, on the subject "'Peace Among Men of Good Will' or Armageddon - Which?"

An interesting aspect of such gatherings was the mass meeting at the Friday morning session. At that time 143 were baptized.

Pavone further commented that local meetings this week would review key points of counsel and their immediate application in this vicinity.

County library system shows big increase in 12 months

Book circulation in the Santa Clara County Library system continued to boom over the past 12 months, with a 9.7 percent increase over last year, according to County Librarian George F. Farrier.

Farrier said that 2,026,593 book check-outs were rung up during the fiscal year July 1, 1963 - June 30, 1964. This was a rise of 178,419 check-outs over the same period in 1962-63. Even more spectacular was the 24.8 percent increase for the month of June, 1964, over the June, 1963, figures.

Especially significant according to Farrier was the fact that population in the areas served increased only 3.5 percent as compared with the 9.7 percent book increase. He attributed this threefold differential to improved library facilities, careful selection of new titles by the system's book selection committee, larger stocks of books, and improvements in number and quality of staff.

The County Library system has 12 branches for the general public, plus three travelling Bookmobiles which serve outlying areas. In addition, the system serves both the juvenile and jail institutions of the County, and also the County schools. The schools' circulations did not figure in the statistics quoted, Farrier said.

Farrier said that seven of the twelve general service branches have moved into attractive new locations over the past few years, and each move has produced a sharp rise in book circulation in that branch. A thirteenth branch is now budgeted and is expected to be established this year in the Quito district of Saratoga.

County sealer explains new proposal to protect shopper

Still another proposal to protect the shopper has been revealed by Acting County Sealer John C. Santner.

Just last week Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public got the good news out of Sacramento that the State Bureau of Weights and Measures was asking that County Sealers be authorized to test all taxicab meters and distance measuring devices in rental cars. Such meters, Santer said, commonly over-register up to five per cent.

Today Santer relayed a second proposal by the Bureau that would empower County Sealers to ban sale of merchandise with vague or misleading statements of weight or number. A public hearing will be held on this proposal at 9 AM on August 18th in the Department of Agriculture's Assembly room in Sacramento.

Specifically, the Bureau's suggested regulation would require that the declaration of quantity on a package shall state the net quantity of the commodity in the package exclusive of wrappings and any other material packaged with the commodity.

The declaration would also have to be clearly and conspicuously printed and placed with respect to other lettering or graphic material on the package. Color, too, would have to be in definite contrast with its background.

Santner said the proposed new statewide regulations are based closely on those recommended by the National Bureau of Standards and the National Conference of Weights and Measures.

Dutch Haven offers country-in-city

Relaxed country living and easy access to office or plant leads the want lists of buyers at Dutch Haven's new community in the foothills of Los Gatos... the Dutch Haven Town & Country Series, according to Dave Enemark, Dutch Haven Sales Manager.

The Dutch Haven community was specifically planned for this maximum convenience, Enemark said. It retains the secluded, suburban atmosphere that people want, plus being desirably located in a popular residential area at the foothills of Los Gatos.

Located on Downer-Avenue near the new I. B. M. facility, Dutch Haven Town & Country offers 3-and 4-bedroom plans with family room and up to three baths.

NEW DIRECTOR--Eugene K. Kelley, manager of the Campbell office of the First National Bank of San Jose, has been named to the board of directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce to fill the vacancy that existed. At the last meeting of the C. of C. directors, it was reported that nine new members had joined the Chamber in the last month. The C. of C. also adopted a resolution opposing the closing of Rincon and Latimer when the San Tomas Expressway is built through town. The directors have scheduled a special meeting for August 19.

PLENTY OF NOURISHMENT

Campbell Union School District students consumed nearly three-quarters of a million lunches and 471,430 cartons of milk during the last school term according to a report made at a recent board of trustees meeting.

William C. Henley, Superintendent, complimented Mrs. Pearl Calabreese, cafeteria supervisor, on the quality and tastefulness of the meals prepared for the students.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

By Gladstone A. Boquist
Field Representative

Q.-I am a waitress in a restaurant. My employer withholds Social Security tax on the value of the meals I am furnished. Is this correct?

A.-Your employer is correct. Even though you do not pay income tax on the value of your meals when they are furnished for the convenience of your employer, wages in kind count for Social Security purposes. Your employer must withhold Social Security tax on the value of your meals the same as he does from your cash wages. Your Social Security Account will be credited with the combined total of your cash wages and the value of the meals furnished to you.

Q.-What happens to the benefits I have been receiving for my daughter if she gets married a few months before she reaches 18?

A.-Social Security benefits will stop the month before she gets married. The Social Security Administration should be notified of the date of marriage.

Q.-I am a widow, but I receive a Social Security benefit of $101.00 based on my own record. If I remarry, will my payments be affected?

A.-No. As you are receiving benefits based on your own earnings, your payments will continue unchanged.

Q.-I am 70 years old and have been getting Social Security for 5 years. I have a small farm and my net profit was a trifle over $400.00 for 1963. Do I still have to report this and pay the tax?

A.-Yes, you must file a self-employment tax return and pay the tax, if your net income was $400 or more, regardless of your age and the fact that you are already getting benefits.

HELP line added to County link

County Communications Center has had another private emergency telephone line added to their network. The new link is called the "HELP" line through which emergency information can be relayed to over thirteen hospitals, and the Regional Blood Bank.

This new service of Pacific Telephone Company is in addition to the "HOT" line which was installed last year to provide Civil Defense and Disaster Information for relay to the public. The system, according to Robert Mason, County Communications Director, eliminates the natural geographical spread and unifies the seventeen political jurisdictions in Santa Clara County into one co-hesive unit.

New ideas for County Fair

Santa Clara County Fair's Home Economics Division will help celebrate the Fair's 20th anniversary with new showcases, new classes and new ideas.

The Women's department will place emphasis on showing all phases of the modern woman and what she has accomplished in the home. A modern, enlightening showing of home economics will be presented to the visiting fairgoer.

One hundred new illuminated showcases for the textile displays will be ready. There will also be sections for frozen foods, which are gradually replacing the more traditional canning classes. Among other displays will be a fully-equipped kitchen, with men, women and teenage cooks from the county taking turns preparing meals. Another popular feature of the department will be the nightly cosmetology demonstrations. Fair time is September 14 through 20.

Judy Jo Teie is now Mrs. Samuel Espeseth

Two June graduates of San Jose State College, Miss Judy Joe Teie of Campbell and Samuel Espeseth of San Leandro, exchanged marriage vows recently at a double ring ceremony at the Church of the Good Shepherd in San Jose.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Teie, 1154 Emerson Ave., Campbell. Her bridal gown of peau de soie and Alencon lace was designed with a scoop neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a Chapel train. A pearl crown held her long veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses and a white Bible, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Royal Espeseth of Hayward was the matron of honor. Her floor-length gown was of pale pink organza with a matching pearl head-piece. She carried pink and white sweetheart roses.

Little Kay Espeseth, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. Her pale pink frock matched her mother's gown, who was the matron of honor. She carried a basket of pink and white rose petals. William Espeseth Jr. was the ring bearer.

Royal Espeseth stood with his brother as best man and ushers were Dan Teie, the bride's brother; John Teir, the bride's cousin; and Eugene Hall and Phillip Davis.

A reception for a large number of friends was held in the Church Parlors. A four tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated with pink and white roses, was cut by the newlyweds. Mrs. Ed Baumgardner, aunt of the bride, poured, assisted by Mrs. Alton Teie of San Leandro. Raynold Allvin provided the organ music.

On returning from a wedding trip to Southern California and Disneyland the young couple will make their home in Campbell.

The bridegroom will assume new duties as Band Master at Washington High School in Fremont, and the bride will teach at Parker School in San Jose. The bridegroom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. William Espeseth of San Leandro.

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

By

Dolores Keywood

Dots and stripes, together, are big news. Big fashion news that is.

Ordinarily, seeing dots and stripes together means one of two things. Either she has no fashion sense or your eyes are bad. However, this is today's fad combination. I say fad, because you may be sure this will pass quickly. But while it is here, have a little fun with it. Wear a striped collar on a polka dot dress or a dotted pussy cat bow on a striped shirt waist dress. Be a little daring and use some imagination. You'll have some fun and make for interesting conversation at the same time.

Wild color combinations are important fashion notes. Colors you would never dream of putting together are now a must, for women in the fashion swing. In warm pastels, try soft coral and yellow, beige and pink or powder blue and lime green. Among the more vivid combinations you'll see red with orange, royal blue with kelly green, and turquoise with purple.

And don't overlook toast with black or caramel with grey.

The big question is what shade of lipstick and nail enamel to choose! Unless your color combination includes a true pink, red or orange, select something in the coral tones. This is considered a basic color because it contains all three shades.

So put that conservative you aside for a change and put a little flair into your wardrobe. It's true that clothes do have an influence on one's personality, so try something new occasionally and discover a new you each time.

DELEGATE--Miss Carolyn Buehner, 2885 So. Bascom, Campbell, president of Alpha Rho chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics organization at San Jose State College, will be the official delegate from her chapter to the national convention at Ohio State University in Columbus, August 18-21.

Rummage sale

Articles of clothing, furniture, dishes, household, etc. will be on sale.

Mrs. E.R. Miller will act as chairman of the project, and Mrs. Jack Maffey will be her co-chairman.

what's doing?

One of the most dramatic developments in telephoning promises to be the see-as-you-talk phone. We call it "picturephone" service. There's a demonstration hook-up working right now between the Bell System exhibits at Disneyland and the New York World's Fair. And if you're visiting either place, you can give it a try. Although picturephone sets for regular home use are still far in the future, they are already in commercial use on a limited basis between three public locations in New York, Chicago and Washington, D.C.

The first nation-wide telecast of a political convention occurred only 12 years ago. Like today's coast-to-coast telecasts, it was transmitted over telephone lines.

This is our central office on Bellomy Street, Santa Clara. This office serves customers in Santa Clara and some areas of San Jose. Approximately 35,000 subscribers are served from this central office. The latest DDD equipment is used in this office to handle our subscribers calls.

Women form West Valley unit

Another unit of the League of Women Voters of Central Santa Clara Valley has been formed, the West Valley unit, for interested women living in the Campbell-Cupertino, west San Jose area.

An organizational meeting was held in July at the home of Mrs. Douglas Ryder, when 16 women attended to learn about the LWV, its purpose and programs. The West Valley unit, sixth in the local LWV organization, will meet again on September 24 at the home of Mrs. B. F. Kalvelage on Tip Toe Lane.

According to Mrs. Norman Pronger, Jr. unit organization chairman, most of the members have been attending the Santa Clara, Sunnyvale or Willow Glen meetings. "These units have a large membership of women from their own areas," she explained, "and we recognized a need for a West Valley unit. LWV units should be kept small enough to be accommodated in the average home, and to encourage discussion from everyone."

What the Council did

At the City Council meeting Monday night, the Council:

1. APPROVED the agreement with Arthur Young & Co., for a fiscal audit of the city at a cost of $2.300.

2. AGREED to sell for $250 to the county a small triangle parcel of the Rincon Park for expressway purposes.

3. APPOINTED L.E. (Bill) Means as a member of the Appeals Board replacing Clarence Nelson who resigned.

4. DIRECTED city personnel to proceed with the removal Chinese Elms on David and Monica because they were crowding each other and smaller trees.

5. APPROVED the subdivision map of Hiatt & Zolezzi off Budd Avenue and adjacent to San Tomas Expressway. The approved map allows for Burnham Ave., a new street, to dead end at Rincon Park.

6. APPROVED the monthly salaries for police personnel recently promoted, including Captain Carl Arnold, $822: Sgt. Donald Burr, $746 and Sgt. Franklin Furtaw, $659. Other salaries approved were: Donald A. Dore, police officer, $541: Joan A. Bermudes, police clerk, $402 and Edmund H. Ravenscroft, administrative assistant, $541.

7. DIRECTED staff personnel to proceed with negotiations to acquire 1.417 acres of land on Sunnyoaks from the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District for a total cost of $10.930.87 for the city's second fire station.

8. APPROVED a budget transfer of $300 for vacation relief in the building department.

9. SET August 24 as the hearing date on the appeal of Milton and Sally Howe on a planning commission ruling that requires the Howes to dedicate a portion of the street as part of approval of a use permit for the operation of a nursery school at 45 Budd Ave. The council decided to defer action after a motion to uphold the commission's ruling did not get a second.

10. DEFERRED until after the city employees association meeting before taking any action on the group health insurance plan of the city. New York Life Insurance had notified the city that because of the city's experience, premium rates would be increased.

The city picks up the tab for the employees but not the dependents. City Manager Stephens estimated that the raise would add $2,500 to the $8.000 premium annually paid by the city.

City councilmen also agreed that other local insurance agents should be given an opportunity to draft an insurance program. This had been suggested by Ed Bealer and Pete Giorgianni, two Campbell insurance men.

Mayo to head United Fund

Arthur R. Mayo, assistant manager of the Campbell Wells Fargo Bank, has been named to lead Campbell's United Fund commerce and industry division appeal. Mayo's appointment was announced by Campbell Campaign Chairman O.S. Sorenson, manager of the Bank of America's Hamilton Plaza branch.

Mayo, who successfully led the Campbell business division drive to collection of $1,005 last year will take on increased responsibilities as commerce and industry division chairman this year. The C/I division will be attempting to raise $18,000 as their goal in 1964.

In order to assist him with solicitation of 45 firms in the Campbell area, Mayo will appoint nine additional volunteers to tell the United Fund story. This year's county-wide goal has been raised 5% above the '63 quota and set at $1.897.532. Collection of funds to meet this goal will help assure continuation of services performed by 65 UF affiliated agencies such as Eastfield, Visiting Nurse Association, Campbell Student Aid Fund, and many others.

In addition to this United Fund civic work, Mayo is a director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, and a director and past president of the Campbell Kiwanis Club.

DINNER DANCE SET

A dinner dance at the Golden Gate Yacht Club is on the agenda for adult members of the Las Ranchitas Cabana Club on Saturday, August 22. Neighbors and friends will board two chartered busses, accommodating 44 couples.
